

Dean Antczak

Owner & President

Over the course of my career, I've worked for companies in a multitude of areas, from restaurants and copiers, to automobiles, just to name a few. My most recent step was becoming the proud owner of LifeWise.

The food ingredient business has been the most rewarding to me. In 1998, I moved into the business with a local seasoning company by the name of Wixon. While at Wixon, I was involved in several areas and was able to work my way up to Director of Industrial Ingredients.

In September of 2013, I took on a new role at LifeWise as the of Director of Sales and Operations. At the time, my focus was to increase sales while streamlining operations to become a more efficient, greener company that would help support the environment.

Shortly after joining LifeWise, I was blessed to become the Owner and President. One of the most rewarding parts of my job is watching the employees and company grow as one.

My approach to LifeWise is largely inspired by my family. Having a beautiful wife and two fantastic children has given me a better perspective on life, a devoted approach on how to run our company, and how to treat our internal and external customers.

There are many other things I love to do; however, my favorites are hanging with my wife, watching my children play sports, making specialty beverages, and chasing that little white ball around a golf course.

Thank you for your interest in LifeWise and all the best!
